Attached is the information on talent moves within Enron. The numbers are for Enron's domestic workforce only. The bottom line is that the EBS and EES redeployment figures are not unusual for Enron: We moved over 3000 employees last year (about 25% of our domestic workforce). Most of these moves are attributable new business startups (eg EGM, ENW and EIM) and normal course of business transfers within the company. The formal redeployment process makes up only a small fraction of the total moves in the company.
