

Weights Overview

Corporate Sustainability Assessment 2026

S&P Global ESG Research centers on financial materiality and integrates long-term, intangible factors shown to have an impact on a company's business value drivers, including growth, profitability, capital efficiency and risk exposure. Therefore, the S&P Global Corporate Sustainability Assessment (CSA) applies 62 industry specific approaches that can differ by topic areas covered, as well as by the weights assigned to these topic areas, as they affect different industries to varying extents.

Each year S&P Global ESG Research reassesses the weights used in the CSA to aggregate scores from criteria level to dimension to total level, representing the S&P Global ESG Score. The weights might change as the relative importance of sustainability topics evolves or as a result of questions being added or deleted.

Many companies completing the CSA for the first time focus on the criteria that carry the highest weight within their industry.

The weights shown in this document apply to the 2026 'Full' CSA: Companies who are completing a 'Fundamental' version will not have edit access to all the criteria listed here, however they will be visible in grey text within the online portal.

Adherence to S&P's Internal Policies

S&P Global adopts policies and procedures to maintain the confidentiality of non-public information received in connection with its analytical processes. As a result, S&P Global employees are required to process non-public information in accordance with the technical and organizational measures referenced in the internal S&P Global Information Security and Acceptable Use policies and related guidelines.

Conflicts of Interest

S&P Global is committed to providing transparency to the market through high-quality independent opinions. Safeguarding the quality, independence and integrity of Content is embedded in its culture and at the core of everything S&P Global does. Accordingly, S&P Global has developed measures to identify, eliminate and/or minimize potential conflicts of interest for Sustainable1 as an organization and for individual employees. Such measures include, without limitation, establishing a clear separation between the activities and interactions of its analytical teams and non-analytical teams; email surveillance by compliance teams; and policy role designations. In addition, S&P Global employees are subject to mandatory annual training and attestations and must adhere to the Sustainable1 Independence and Objectivity Policy, the Sustainable1 Code of Conduct, the S&P Global Code of Business Ethics and any other related policies.
